Description

How to characterize Bukowina as briefly as possible? In a nutshell - anything that you gets you going. Fast current, numerous rapids, beautiful, mostly wooded landscapes, troublesome stone floor and, above all, numerous, difficult to overcome piled up trees that constitute a challenge for any skilled canoeist. And when it seems that we are not far from the end, that the finish line is certainly just behind the bend, it turns out that another tree appears and then another one and again ...

This river, modest at first, turns out to be a great challenge and a lovely prelude to Łupawa - the river into which it flows. So - experienced kayakers, because only they can enjoy its charms - get ready for amazing entertainment provided by this, somehow not mountain-like river which still has a mountain character at places !
